THAT FEELS LIKE FAMILY

FIND YOUR PLACE

in our beautiful community

St. John's Herr Estate can be found near the charming Susquehanna Rivertown of Columbia, PA, nestled in the tree-lined countryside. Personal Care residents appreciate the family-like connections created between one another and members of the St. John's team. And while enjoying as much independence as possible, residents receive support and assistance with life's daily activities, tailored to their own individual needs.

Nutrition is an important component of well-being and our chef-prepared meals are served by a team who learns each resident's schedule and preferences to ensure they enjoy three healthy meals each day.

Stylishly appointed private suites with full baths and tea kitchens enhance the resident experience. The common areas—such as the fitness center, library, and lounges—serve as extensions of their home. Beautifully landscaped outdoor spaces with raised garden beds are in place for residents to plant and attend to, or simply visually appreciate. And the tranquil setting is completed by the peace of mind both residents and their families enjoy, knowing care and support is available anytime of day or night.
